CAUSE OF IMPURE BLOOD

Druggist Tells of Best Remedy.
Pure healthy blood is a most essential factor to good health.

Poor, thin, devitalized blood may be caused by a weakness of the digestive organs, an accumulation of waste matter in the system, an inactive liver or lack of exercise.

Whatever the cause the best remedy we know is our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It will purify and enrich the blood, tone up the digestive organs, give you a hearty appetite and create strength.

A case has just come to our attention from Schenckelsville, N. Y. Mrs. Hattie Hall says: "I was formerly run down and my blood in bad condition by an abscess forming in my side which required treatment for several weeks. Under the regular use of Vinol to purify and enrich my blood and build up my strength this was soon healed and my general health was much improved."

If you have the slightest indication of poor blood take Vinol. It will help you to get back your energy. Graham & Company, Druggists, Connelville, Vinol is sold in West Side by Fred H. Harmonline—Advertisement.

DUAL JOBS ARE NO LONGER OBNOXIOUS TO THE FLINNITES

Dale bill and denouncing it as an unmeasured term, despite the fact that the doubling-up opportunities of the uniform primary act of 1906 have always been disliked.

There is not lost by Governor John K. Tener in disposing of legislation sent to him and he has approved the Shultz Mothers' Pension Act and the Shawalter Act providing for vocational training in the public schools. These bills are distinctly Republican organization measures, so far as sponsorship and passage go. It is doubtful if the most poorly balanced "progressive" follower of Flinn could devise two bills of more direct importance to society.

The one provides a means for taking care of families which lose the husband and father; the other provides practical training of commercial and economic value for school children. While the Flinnites have been vociferously demanding that the Legislature provide a means to their way of thinking and have been concentrating their energies on such spectacular legislation as election acts, labor bills, constitutional revision, etc., the Republican organization has been holding off the Legislature with one hand and with the other has been accomplishing such good things for the State at large as the Shultz and Shawalter bills.

Developments Are Being Malted By A Money Shortage

For power to advance freight rates 5 per cent, their request should have an impartial hearing. The present is not a propitious time for advancing railroad rates when business threatens to become more quiet, but the position of some of the railroads may become critical, and present tendencies cannot continue without involving some sort of crisis. We must either have rational and fair regulation instead of one-sided regulation, as at present, or the country will face the alternative of Government ownership much sooner than expected or desired.

The most encouraging element in the outlook is the crop situation. The prospect is for a large yield of winter wheat, and the soil is in excellent condition generally because of an abundance of moisture through the spring months, which is the most important requisite in the start toward a good harvest.

While the above is a candid analysis of an unsatisfactory situation, there is reason for any undue pessimism or depression. The country is simply slowing down for a period of temporary readjustment.

DODGES THE COPS

John Hay Is Finally Arrested for Blocking a Sidewalk.
When a crowd of young fellows standing in front of a Main street store at 2 o'clock Sunday morning refused to move to the curb at the command of Patrolman Stump, the officer attempted to place one of them, John Hay, under arrest. The lad's companions surrounded the patrolman and in a few minutes the patrolman escaped, running over the Young Bridge. Stump telephoned to Patrolman Lemon, and the West Side officer caught the youth as he was running up Main street. After a short tussle with the patrolman, the youth again broke away, and went to his home.

Yesterday morning Chief Hietel endeavored to serve a warrant on him, but Hay was too swift of foot. He ran when the chief moved to arrest him, and the chief never did catch him. When the youth was at work, and this morning he appeared before Burgess Evans. He paid a fine.

YOU ARE LOOKING OLDER THAN WHEN I SAW YOU LAST

Have You Ever Had This Said of You Because of Grey Hairs

It is most embarrassing to have a friend remark that you are "looking older". Grey hairs are not becoming, people may tell you so, but they are saying to themselves: "What a pity she is not old. And she used to have such beautiful hair."

There is one quick, absolutely sure, easy way of getting rid of grey or faded hair—simply use Hay's Hair Health. It brings back the fine, glossy, brilliant color of your hair—restores the grey hairs to their natural color immediately, and keeps the scalp free from dandruff.

People voluntarily recommend Hay's Hair Health. It is not unusual for them to say: "I want to tell others about it. It's perfectly splendid." Try it yourself, today. You'll be surprised how quickly the grey hairs disappear; how beautifully dark and glossy your hair will remain after using it. Druggists sell more Hay's Hair Health than all others combined because their customers prefer it and they know that it can be guaranteed satisfactory.

READY FOR THE TRENCHES.

The President has delegated the Secretary of Commerce to investigate the pottery business and ascertain whether the Wilson bill is unjust to that industry. New Jersey is a great pottery state. It is also President Wilson's state. He is willing to heed the protests of the pottery people, but he turns a deaf ear to the protests of the steel and iron and wool and sugar manufacturers.

The pottery incident recalls the fact that the present Wilson bill, both in its character and the manner of its making follows after the former Wilson bill. The only difference between them is that the Wilson bill of 1913 is much more drastic than the Wilson bill of 1909, and that the manufacturers were heard on the latter and not on the former.

It was on the final passage of the Wilson bill of 1909 that Thomas Brackett Reed warned the Democrats that if they passed such a Tariff bill the Republicans at the next election would buy them, not in graves, but the Republicans at the next election only two years thereafter, and in spite of an effort to obscure the Tariff issue behind the money question the election of McKinley was overwhelming. The Democrats party is getting ready for the wholesale internment.

BRYAN JUNK.

The Untown Genius, whose claim to the title of the chief organ of the Democratic party in Fayette county is seriously disputed by the Connelville News and not seriously contested by The Genius, says in a column editorial, The Genius is in view of the fact that The Genius seldom has any editorial column.

The Genius accuses us of "throwing off the mask" and advocating the manufacturing interests. It is true. We shamelessly confess it. But the manufacturing interests we would promote are those which promote the prosperity and happiness of our people, and without which, in fact and in operation, we would have idle men and suffering women and children.

But the Genius says they are big interests; that they include trusts which elect Presidents and Congressmen. We don't care whether they are big or little interests, or what their political affiliations may be, if they keep the wheels going round and the people employed at good wages; if they produce a condition which makes business brisk all over the country, and commercial wrecks a rare thing in mercantile circles; in short, if they are conducted with fair profits and reasonable regulation and make for general welfare, we can afford to disagree with Editor John Lester Krigger's borrowed Crown of Thorns and Cross of Gold.

If the esteemed Genius wants to be Progressive, it will have to dispose of a lot of its Bryan Junk.

Congressman Clyde Kelley, who has the distinguished honor of succeeding John Daisell, announces that he will vote for the Democratic Tariff bill. The Honorable Clyde is a Progressive. He explains that if the Wilson bill proves to be bad at his election he will at the next election "get his." He will.

The Pittsburgh Mailers are hooding it to the Fen.

"There is no reason why the editor of the Connelville Courier should think of retiring. Sarah Bernhardt is only sixty-eight," says the Untown Herald. And Sarah will always be greater than all the vaudeville artists of the country.

The English aeronauts have gotten past the joking period. Henceforth they should be treated just like any other male criminal.

Over 100 applications for 8 vacancies in the teaching corps of the Connelville public schools indicates that there is no lack of teachers available for positions here. Connelville positions are evidently desirable "sites."

Chief Jim Hill thinks it would be a good thing for the country if Congress would adjourn for ten years. Farseeing people will agree with this view of Congress and supplant it with the observation that the adjournment should have taken place several months ago.

Our weather bureau got a bit overheated last week.

The alien land bill is said to be unsatisfactory to the California people. The California people should cheer up, there are others.

Connellville's tarball was officially opened last Saturday. The usual number of grandmothers were ruthlessly sacrificed, but there was no boom in the undertaking business.

A deserted and destitute woman in Connelville is a case for the officers of the law as well as the ministers of mercy.

Congressman Carr is for Free Immigration as well as Free Trade. The Connelville region could stand more of the former than of the latter.

The Tariff debate is getting wild and woolly.

Tariff bills have hitherto been drafted after exhaustive hearings from those interested and such experts as were available. The Democratic plan is to write the bill, put it on passage and inquire about it afterwards.

House Cleaning

"WHAT sort of a funnel shaped cloud has been around here, anyhow?" inquired Jamesworth. "Why do I find our country to come and take the shavings and our gorgeous furniture scattered over the lawn?" "I began house cleaning this morning," replied Mrs. Jamesworth. "Mrs. Forrester is helping me in the house, and her husband is beating the rugs and outdoors, and we're getting along fine." "Were there no more representatives of the Porringer tribe you could place on the payroll?" It seems to me that Porringer has several brothers and grandfathers and other liabilities, and we should have them all here. The more the merrier," Mrs. Jamesworth. "Expense should be no consideration when the time comes to carry all the junk out of the house and hang it on the gooseberry bushes. I have no doubt that Porringer has several sons who would do good service if you rounded them up and put them into training. I'll leave a lot of blank checks on the executive and you may act as your own paymaster, only be sure to have the right old liabilities and superannuated men to do the job up right."

Quality First—

Then Advertise.

If you start out to buy any given article and are offered the choice of one that is well known through advertising and one that you never heard of, you will instinctively choose the one that you know about. You feel secure in selecting an article that will stand up and justify generous publicity.

You are right. A manufacturer or a merchant cannot afford to lend his name to anything that is inferior in quality or not up to the standards of value.

If an article has real merit it is worth talking about. If it hasn't merit it doesn't pay to tell people that it has.

If you make hats or shoes or whatnot and they are good and honest and possess unusual qualities tell the public and the public will support you. If not, go back to your factory or your store and bring your merchandise up to a standard that will justify the public's confidence.

To Farmers and Dairyman; Everybody.

The Union Supply Company has added milk departments in every store. Milk, cream, buttermilk. It is a great market for your products. Farmers, dairymen, people living at the plants, are invited to consult our store managers. They want your milk; they will pay you the highest cash price. Indications are that this experiment is going to be a great success, and we will want large quantities of milk. It will pay you to give this consideration, and figure on furnishing us part of our supply. We also want to interest farmers and people in the vicinity of our plants in raising all sorts of vegetables; we have a market for them, and we want to get the supply locally. Consider this carefully; it is a paying business, for the gardener, farmer and individual who goes into it right. We are always in position to handle the largest quantities you can produce; and we are always in position to take your small quantities of vegetables of all sorts, buttermilk, eggs, milk, cream, chickens, turkeys, ducks, all sorts of poultry, veal, lamb, hogs, beef; anything you can raise on a farm or in your garden we have a market for.

May Business

Is going to be bigger than ever before in the history of this store. Little prices on dependable goods will bring it about. This store is going to offer some bargains that ought to bring every woman within a reasonable distance of the store to visit it not only once but many times. Real bargain prices on goods that you are needing now—an opportunity to save money that will convince you that this store ought to be your store. Prices that will appeal to your pocketbook and on goods that you cannot afford to pass by without seeing and examining. For the first four days of the week, commencing Monday, May the fifth, we present the following list:

Ladies' Jacket Suits at $18.50

About fifty of these—real value $25, $27 and $30. Some of these from our regular stock and some we have had made especially for this sale, but not a suit in the lot worth less than $25. Black and colors, and all sizes. Four days selling of these at $18.50 and this means a bargain to you if you have a suit want.

Women's Hose at 20c the Pair

Woman's silk hose, spliced heel and toe, colors, black, white and tan. Sixty dozen of these to sell, and we think they are the best 25 cent stockings this store has ever had to show. Intend to sell these sixty dozen at 20 cents the pair on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th.

12 1/2c and 15c Dress Gingham at 10c the Yard

Fifty pieces of these included in this offer and that means checks and stripes and checks in special colors and patterns in gingham that you never bought before at this price.

Children's Colored Dresses One-Fourth Less Than the Marked Price

Sizes 2 to 8 years, and dresses that are priced from $1.00 up to $2.00 and $3.00 and $4.00. This means that you will buy those at a dollar for 75 cents; those at $2.00 for $1.50, those at $3.00 for $2.25, and those at $4.00 for $3.00. Come in and look them over and tell us if it is not a dress bargain worth considering and coming for.

Ladies' Dress Skirts at $5.00

Serges, Panamas, Voiles—skirts that were priced at $6.00, $8.00 and $10.00, and more of these last two prices than the first. Skirt values that you will appreciate once you see the skirts. Four days, or while they last, your choice ..... $5.00

10-Wire Tapestry Carpet at 95c the Yard

Five patterns that sold for $1.10 the yard. Room and hall patterns, and this price means made, laid and lined. If your room takes around thirty-five yards this means a saving to you of about $5.00 on each room you carpet. All these are good colors and patterns, and it's a carpet bargain that don't often come to you in the midst of the carpet season.

These prices on dependable merchandise are for four days only, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th. These are prices that mean quick selling of the goods offered. Somebody is going to buy them at these prices. If you want your share we'll expect to see you in this store on one or more of these days.

"GO IN DEBT if you want to get rich.
There is no incentive to save equalling the compulsion to save that follows a prudently-made debt."

"Don't go in debt on general expenses—that will foster ruin. Don't buy a suit unless you can pay for it—or an automobile or anything of costly upkeep.

"But buy a house—prudently; or a farm—with more deliberation; or a piano, or some real property.
And you'll save—and soon own it.

"Our records show hundreds of piano owners who never could have owned an instrument on a cash basis, and all the vast experience of selling pianos we have known of no subsequent hardship; nor have we been asked for relief from the bargain, except in two or three cases. Family bereavement—the loss of the breadwinner—has, in a few cases, changed plans.
And we have helped to make the change easy."

Go in debt and get one of our high grade pianos.

COKERS WIN THE OPENING GAME BY RALLY IN FOURTH

Pile Up Ten Runs and Put the Contest Away Early.

THE FINAL SCORE IS 11 TO 3

Williams in hitting star, Klingensmith excels in field and Peffer is the fleet-footed boy on the base; Opening Contest Largely Attended.

Connellsville 11; Irwin 3.

With the blast of trumpets of two brass bands, a procession in which both teams participated, Burgess J. L. Evans, throwing the first ball, auspicious weather and 900 fans filling the bleachers and grandstand of Fayette field, the local baseball season was successfully opened Saturday afternoon, the opening semi-pro championship of Western Pennsylvania, the Cokers, defeating Ferguson's Irwin nine in the premier game of the year.

Although the atmosphere was slightly hazy in the morning, mid-summer weather prevailed throughout the afternoon. The day could not have been more auspicious for a successful opener, and as a consequence the program was carried out as planned.

Jimmy Ferguson with a band of Irwinites arrived in town over the Pennsylvania at 10.55, and immediately repaired to the Smith House where reservations had been made for them. During the morning the hotel was the rendezvous for ball players and fans, and as the time approached for the procession to form, there was a large crowd gathered about the hotel.

The parade formed at 2 o'clock. The 25th Regiment Band led the procession, and was followed by the Irwinites. Next in line came the Connellsville Military Band, playing the home town's favorite tunes. The parade, which marched down Fayette street to Fayette and thence to the ball field.

One of the features of the day that wasn't on the program, but which, nevertheless, was enjoyed greatly by the musically inclined fans in the crowd was the rivalry exhibited by the two bands. After they marched into the park, Jim Buttermore's musicians took up a stand near the grandstand, and John Gaster's band stood in the field near third base. The former would strike up a popular air, and as soon as they finished playing it, the military band would take up the same strain, and the contest of who, well, to the amusement of the crowd. The exhibition continued until Umpire George Gragg shouted the welcome command, "play ball."

There wasn't a vacant seat in the bleachers nor was there an unoccupied seat in the grandstand 10 minutes before the game was called. Nearly 900 fans unable to gain seats, were gathered on the sidewalks.

The crowd was not made up of men alone. More than a score of feminine enthusiasts were sprinkled here and there through the grandstand, their well-colored summer gowns lending a pleasing holiday aspect to the occasion.

Another feature of the day was the appearance of Burgess J. L. Evans in the pitcher's box. The burgess threw the first ball into the mitt of Jake Schultze, after which he retired to his auto in favor of Peffer. The burgess had been in training for the event was shown by his remarkable control. He hurled the sphere directly over the center of the plate, shoulder high—a certain strike.

The game was largely played very much as during the fourth inning in which the Cokers batted around in their half of the session, scoring 10 runs. For the Cokers, Williams was easily the hero of the contest as he had a home run, a double and two singles to his credit. His home run came with three on the base. Peffer's pitching was good. He was never in any serious difficulty during the game.

For the visitors Beswick was the holding star. He made a most difficult catch of Angus' sacrifice fly in the fourth, running with the ball several feet before he finally lost his footing, falling and then Peffer, taking himself considerably. Chip Francis' work with the stick was up to his usual standard, but he managed to have two errors chalked up against him in holding.

Up to the fourth game was well played on both sides. During that session, however, the fireworks began. Chip Francis led off with a two-base drive to left. Williams followed with a two-bagger through short. The treatment accorded the host offenders by these two players, caused Irwin to start on his balloon ascension. He walked Klingensmith, and permitted Drapp to hit safely to left, bringing in Williams. With the bases full, he walked Schultze, and then Peffer landed on one of his choice offerings, bringing in Williams and Klingensmith. Stillwell and Sisley then walked in succession, and Ferguson derided Irwin in favor of Peffer.

The new pitcher didn't stick up any higher than a pile of straw in nature, and a ripple of amusement ran through the crowd when he marched onto the field in an old, one-time-white uniform that had seen better days. Sisley, however, was right on the job and refused to have the contest turned into a burlesque. He objected to Peffer playing unless he worked in a regular uniform. This was procured and then the game proceeded.

With the bases full, Peffer sent a fast one over the plate and Angus hit it on the nose. The ball traveled on a bee line for the left field fence, and for a time it appeared as though it would not start to drop until it passed over the fence. It did fall though and Beswick caught it on the run, taking a header into the dirt, but still retaining possession of the ball. He was jarred by the fall, and the ball was recalled for a few minutes while he was regaining some of his lost wind.

MISS RUTH B. LAW MAY TRY TO FLY ACROSS ATLANTIC.

MISS RUTH B. LAW.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Aviation circles were stirred by the announcement that the Laws—Miss Ruth Bancroft Law and her brother, F. Rodman Law—intend trying to fly across the Atlantic ocean. The statement issued from Boston of their intention to compete for the prize of Lord Northcliffe of England quoted Miss Law as stating that they would try the flight in an aeroplane equipped with tin floats and not pontoons. They thought they could travel 100 miles an hour and carry enough fuel for the entire trip. Aviators generally think the Laws will think the matter over again before they risk their lives above the waves.

When play was resumed, Francis hit safely, Klingensmith also hammered one out, Williams got on first, and Drapp struck out. Schultze was the third man out. He struck out.

The Cokers secured their other run in the seventh stanza. Drapp hit safely to center, but was out trying to steal second. Raul to Simpson. Schultze flew out to Delastad. Peffer hit safely to center and took first. He stole second and home. Stillwell hit but the little shortstop was thrown out at second and the session ended.

The visitors secured their runs in the second, fifth and ninth innings. Downey was hit by a pitched ball and took first in the second. Kenney hit safely to left, and Downey was thrown out at second on the play. Raul then took first on a passed grounder, advancing Kenney to third. When Stillwell fumbled Delastad's grounder, the batter took first and Kenney made a try for home. He was thrown out at the plate, but on the play, Raul scored. Hilly struck out and the period was over.

In the fifth Delastad was out, Stillwell to Williams. Vaupie went to first on a polar to left. Beswick reached first on a mudd ball, but was out at second when Vaupie went to third on Simpson's grounder through short. A hit by Ferguson brought in Vaupie. Anderson was out, Peffer to Williams. The last of the three runs was made in the final inning, when Kenney flew out to Klingensmith; Raul walked, took second when Delastad hit out a liner, and came home on Vaupie's safety. Beswick was an easy out, and Simpson was a dead one, Angus to Williams. The score:

"Play ball!" the most welcome words to the baseball fan were given Saturday.

There was nothing uncertain about the way the Cokers put that game on ice in the fourth.

This Williams party, playing first for the Cokers, is a home body and with the stick—four hits in five times to the plate, one a home run, the second a double and the third and fourth singles. He played his position at the hot corner like a corner.

Peffer pitched excellent ball. He was never in danger. He gave evidence of being a real pitcher.

That boy Leo Klingensmith was there when it came to playing left field. He was on his toes all the time, and didn't miss any chances. He made one of the most spectacular catches of the game.

ENGINEER OF THE "LITTLE GIANT" IS GIVEN HIGH HONOR

Edward F. Wendt Finds That they Never Come Singly, Either.

TO HELP VALUE THE RAILROADS

Appointment by the Interstate Commerce Commission Follows Close on Heels of His Election as President of Railway Engineers' Association.

Edwin F. Wendt, assistant engineer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, has been appointed by the Interstate Commerce Commission as one of a board of five engineers to undertake the immensely important and complex task of reporting the value of all the railroads in America engaged in interstate traffic. Appointment to this board, limited as it is to five men, is one of the highest honors which can come to any engineer. It is estimated that the work will require five years and from inception and organization until complete fulfillment of the task, the work is entirely in the hands of the engineering men under direction of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The friends of Mr. Wendt are naturally beginning to think that in this case honors never come singly. Only a month or so ago he was elected president of the American Railway Engineering Association, the most important working body of his kind. Now comes a work and a position of responsibility which will be watched with keen interest by the whole country and is of considerable interest in all countries where railroad rates and valuations are matters of common public interest. Mr. Wendt was born in New Brighton, Pa. He studied in the public schools of his home town, carried on engineering work in vacation periods, got a position later as a carriage painter, and from that became a galvanizer in a manufacturing plant. Thereafter he struck as he thought, the ideal of his career, the position of cub pilot on a Cincinnati packet handling coal from Pittsburgh.

Circumstances forced him to leave the river and other more fortuitous circumstances caused his entry into Geneva College, Penn. where he graduated with the highest honors in 1888. During that year he entered the employ of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad as ax and chain man in the engineering corps. Successively and successfully he has filled the position of foreman, locomotive, transmission, and now assistant engineer, in charge of maintenance of way, construction and contract work.

Since his entry into the service of the "Little Giant" he has seen the property track road to its present high position in the railroad engineering world and has taken an active part in the usual road growth. Practically every structure long the line has been rebuilt during the 25 years of Mr. Wendt's service, including the passenger terminal at Pittsburgh and the immense locomotive and repair shops at McKees Rocks. Much of the right of way has been entirely changed and the present favorable grades have been established during this period.

Mr. Wendt is the only member of the board of engineers chosen direct from the railroad field. Most of them had more or less experience in that branch and as consulting experts and one or two have been engaged in valuation work. The appointment was effective May 1, and the organization will be commenced immediately.

MANY BIG FEATURES

Now Acts Make Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus One of the New Features.

Many features, and to be new and excellent, will be presented this year by the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, which will exhibit in Connellsville, Friday, May 9. According to the advance information the act of Mme. Bodini with her dancing horses is one of the most enjoyable of the entire bill, because it shows the possibilities in the education of a horse, which appears to have almost human sense. This woman has taught her horses many new steps in their dance act. Nearly 300 performers are on the bill, and they perform their acts on the ground, on a stage, and high in the air.

Among the acrobatic and gymnastic exhibitions with the show are the Six Lukens, Anita, Connors, the Tamarans, the Van Diemens, the Four Olinas, DeKoeke and others. The leading baraback rider is William Lloyd. Mr. Lloyd is rated as the most accomplished baraback rider in the circus profession. He jumps from the ground to a speeding horse's back, facing the opposite direction from which the horse is running. The Lukens, the Riding Connors, the McCrea-Davenport Troupe, Mme. Bodini and others are in the long list of equestrian artists. The circus will come to this city fresh from its winter quarters, where all of the equipment was practically made over into new.

A new troupe of performing leopards is one of the new features of the show this season. These leopards were bought by Colonel Wallace because he had induced Mme. Mercedes, "the woman without fear," to return to her profession of performing with the leopards. Madame Mercedes was retired, but during the last winter she visited her husband, who is one of the animal trainers with the show, at Peru, and Mr. Wallace engaged her to return to her profession. She was putting her six new leopards through a course of training recently, when one of the tricky animals pounced on her and threw her to the ground. Her arms and shoulders were badly lacerated by the claws of the animal, but she has kept on with her work, and now has the animals subdued to such an extent they act like tame kittens in her hands. She will show them in the performance here.

NEW CAPTAIN FOR ENGLAND'S POLO TEAM A SURPRISE.

NEW CAPTAIN FOR ENGLAND'S POLO TEAM A SURPRISE.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The news that Walter S. Buckmaster had resigned the captaincy of the English challenging polo team because of his injury and that Vivian Lockett of the Eaton Hall team had been chosen as the new captain came as a surprise to the American officials. Buckmaster's absence will materially weaken the British team. H. L. Herbert, chairman of the Polo association, declares that he is the greatest polo player in the world. For several years he has received a higher rating by Hurlingham than any other player in the kingdom and above the American four, Harry Payne Whitney, Larry Waterbury, Monte Waterbury and Devereux Milburn. Lockett is regarded as a good player, but acknowledged as not ranking with Buckmaster.
